
getting rid of pet hair

Posted by catsRfun - 2007/10/08 00:14

Thought i'd start this thread as i am constantly brushing and hoovering away my cats - george and mildred's - hair off my colthes and furniture.

I use a damp cloth to gather hairs off furniture - did try the rubber lint rollers, but they seem to get clogged up very quickly.

any other ideas?:blink:

=====

Re:getting rid of pet hair

Posted by City Pooch Walks - 2007/10/08 03:03

:cheer: Yes a good hoover - we have a dyson one with the roller ball and it doesn't take forever to pick up!!

Nickyxx

P.S Hope your well Karen??

=====

Re:getting rid of pet hair

Posted by catsRfun - 2007/10/08 20:13

great tip, thanks nicky. any advances on a dyson. (oops, if i mention dyson is that advertising? oh well, i'm sure i'll get told off if it is. by the way, why arent any my pet friends staff chatting on here - come on, join in the fun)

karen x

=====

Re:getting rid of pet hair

Posted by Auntie Katie - 2007/11/10 19:10

This is my first post so I hope it works. I have two large hairy dogs and find the best way of getting hair off clothes, furniture and carpets is to have a pair of thick rubber gloves and brush away! The carpets take a bit of work but its very satisfying when finished. :)

=====

Re:getting rid of pet hair

Posted by XxaquaxX - 2008/03/23 23:02

get a hoover is ideal for pet hairs

=====